This elegant apartment located in front of the city park, is indeed a place for a peaceful getaway in the heart of the city. The longitudinal layout disposition of the apartment allows each room to have a large ceiling-to-floor window and plenty of natural lighting, creating a continuous bond with exterior space.

The apartment's entrance hall is a true gem. The importance of this space is emphasized by the use of precious materials such as ebony wood veneer, antiqued bronze, glass mosaic with gold foil, bronzed mirrors and silk velvet.

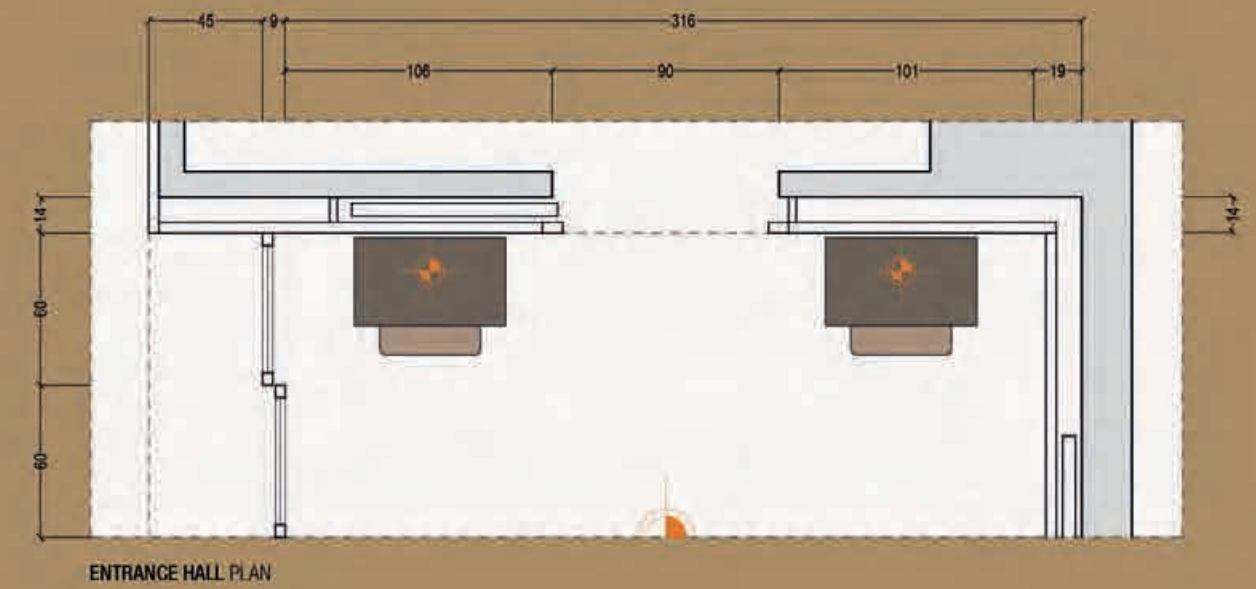

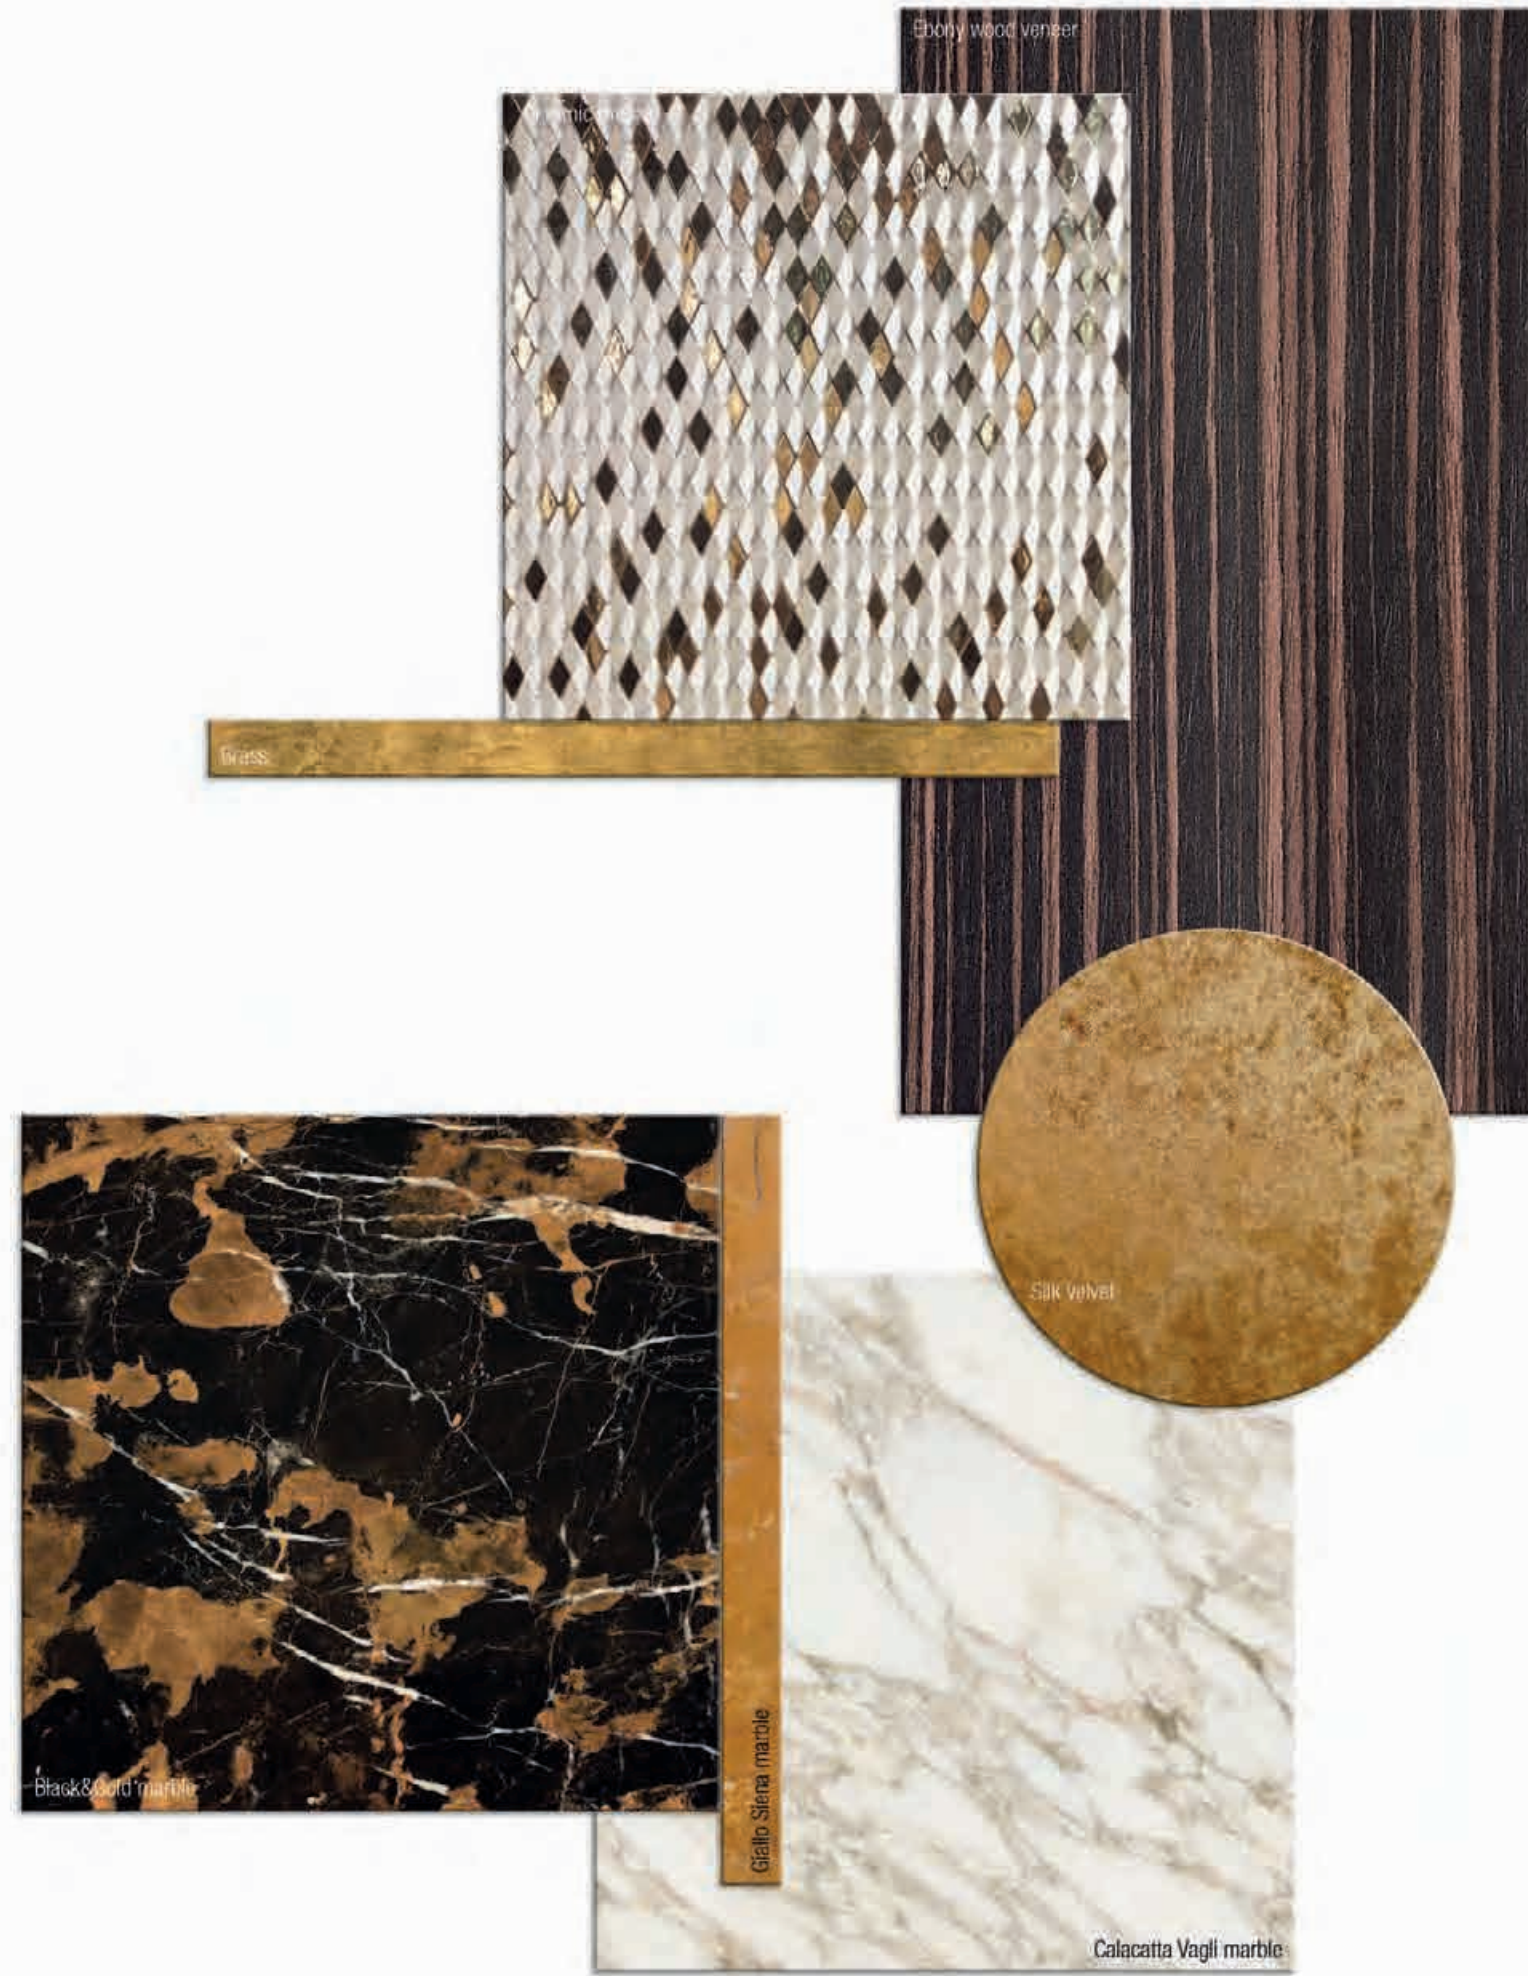

The grand living room, due to its geometrical shape and a large windowed surface, forms a prism that faces the park and creates an interesting dialogue between the apartment's interior space and the green volume of the park.

The master bedroom, complete with two walk-in closets and a master bathroom fully covered in calacatta oro marble, is located in the most intimate area of the apartment which makes it even more precious along with the use of very particular curved boisene niches and sophisticated materials.

MIAMI PENTHOUSE

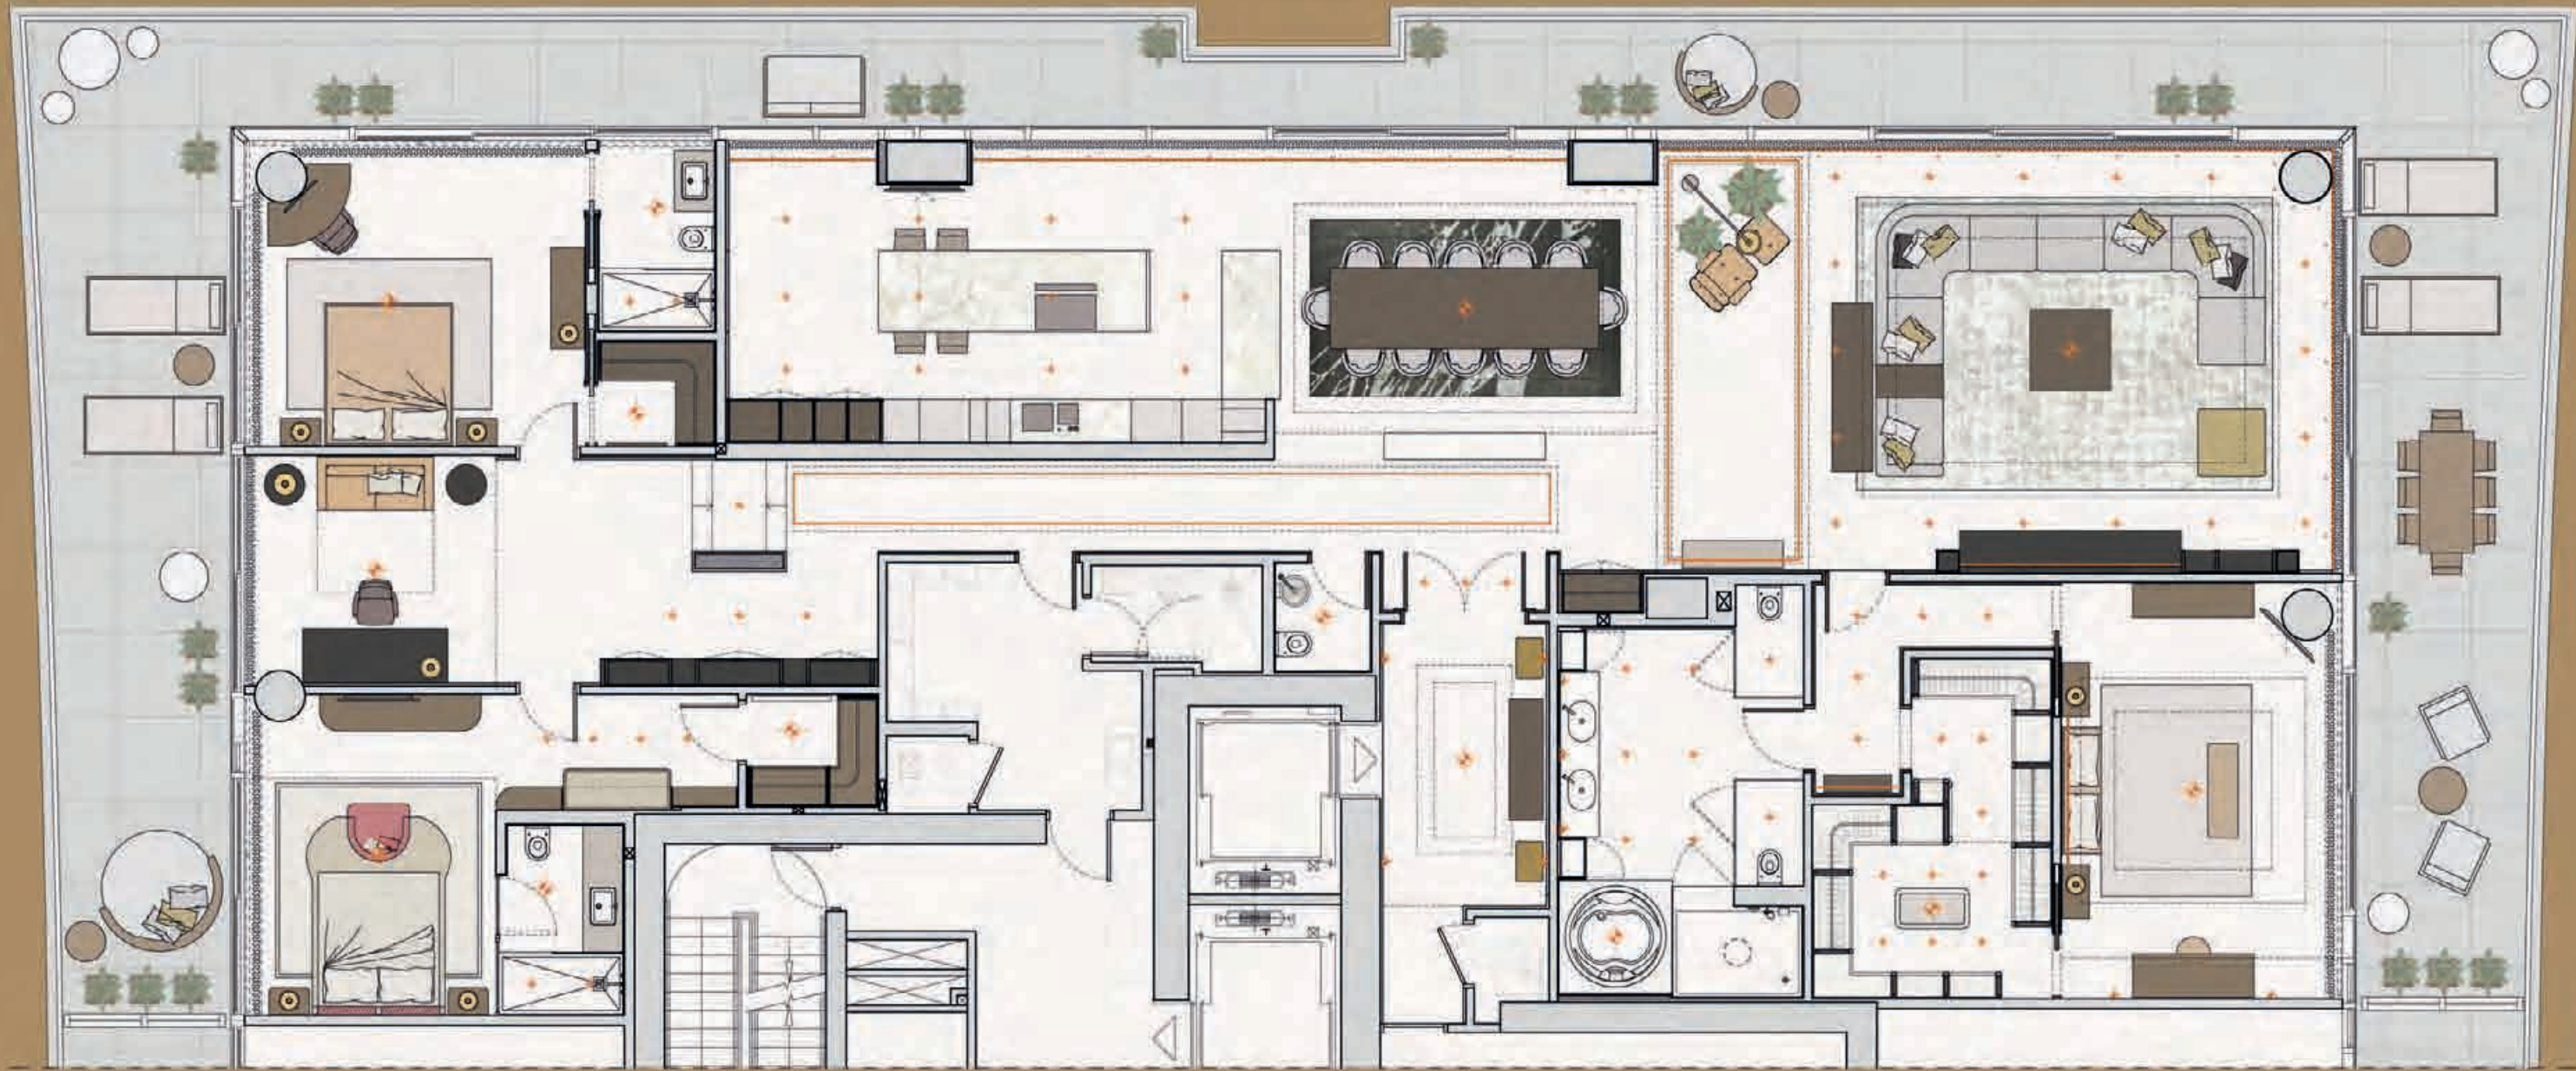

project: PRIVATE PENTHOUSE IN MIAMI | USA
area: 350mq

The breathtaking panoramic ocean view is at the core of this project's concept. The c-shaped disposition of the apartment allows each room to have at least one fully windowed side which makes the natural lighting of the rooms unbelievable.

A strong bond with the exterior view is immediately perceived as one enters the main hall. A glimpse of the ocean can be seen across an exquisite déco style double entrance door in brass and transparent glass.

The longitudinal hallway at the heart of the apartment has been designed in order to lead the viewer's eye from one side of the apartment to another and embrace the extraordinary panoramic view. The indirect lighting and precious materials, such as backlit onyx and bronze ceiling paint, emphasize the importance of this element.

The particular déco style can also be perceived in all of the other rooms through the combination of precious materials, colour schemes and refined furniture, while the ocean theme is seen in some decorative details such as exquisite shell-shaped brass handles, pearl lacquering and boiserie walls with wave effect.

3 BARCELONA VILLA

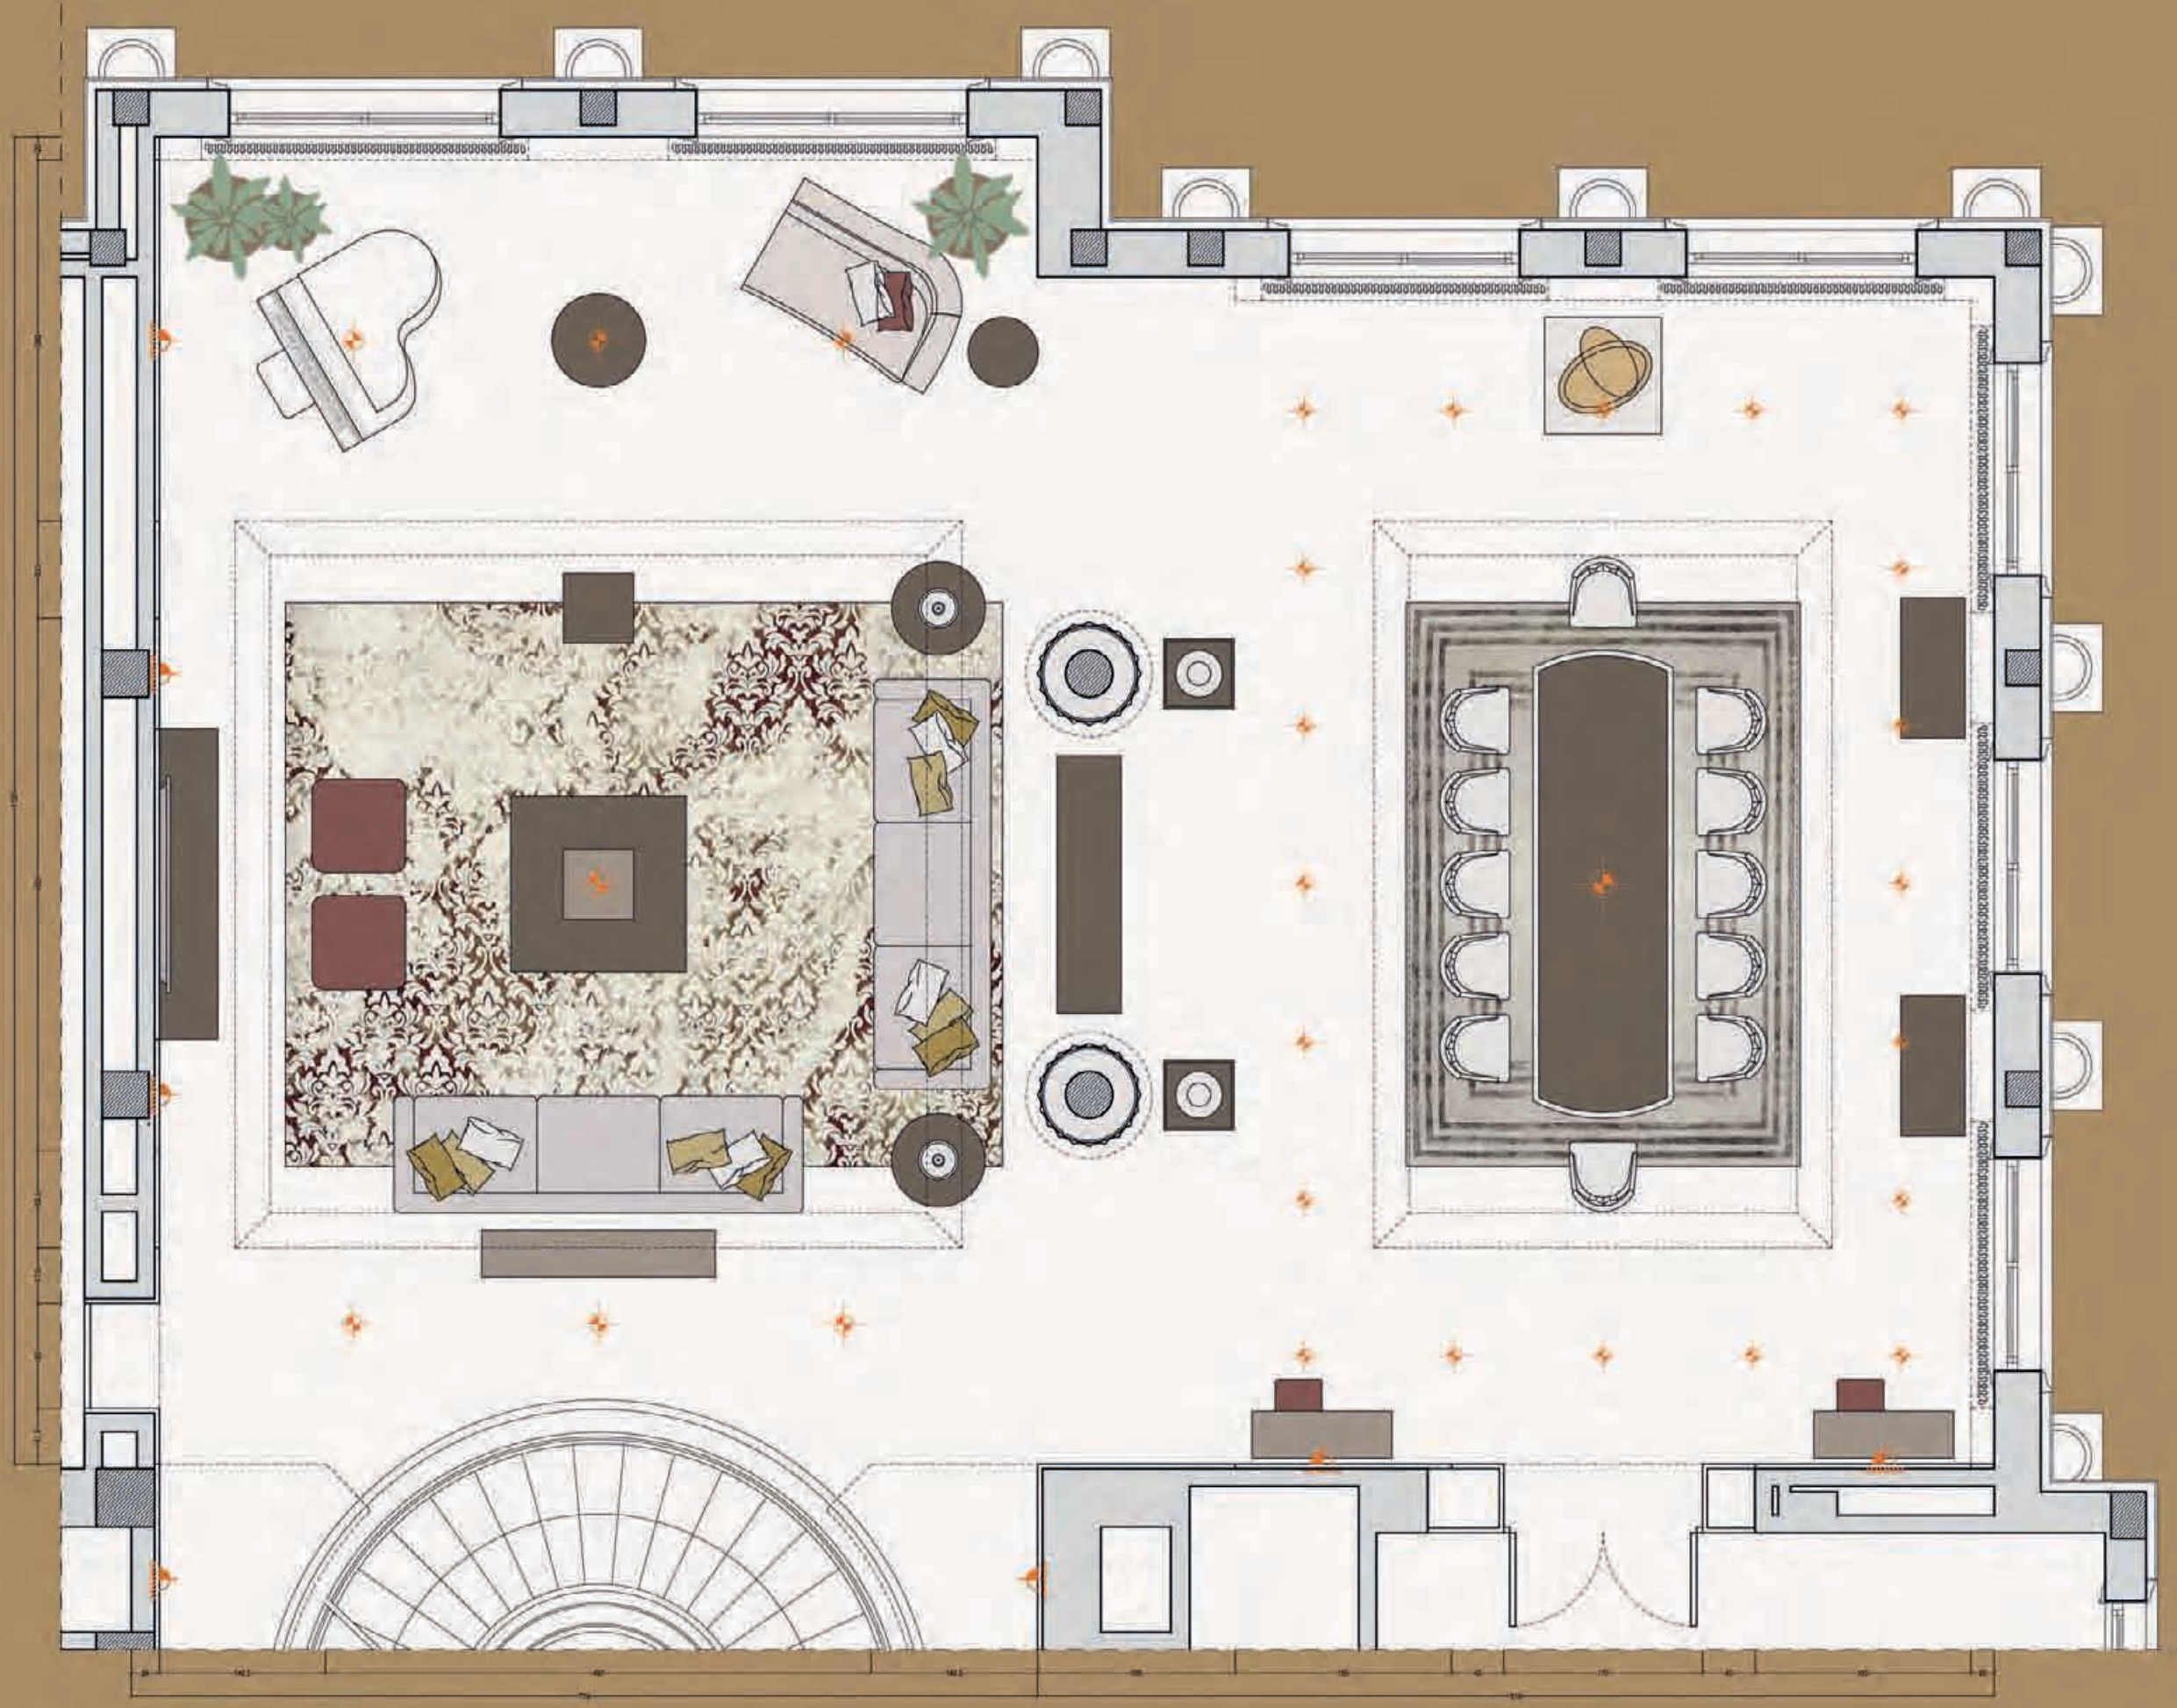

project: PRIVATE VILLA IN BARCELONA | SPAIN
area: 1500mq

This majestic villa is located in a green residential area surrounded by a superb Italian style garden. The villa has been conceived in a very rigorous and classical style, which is also reflected in its interior design project.

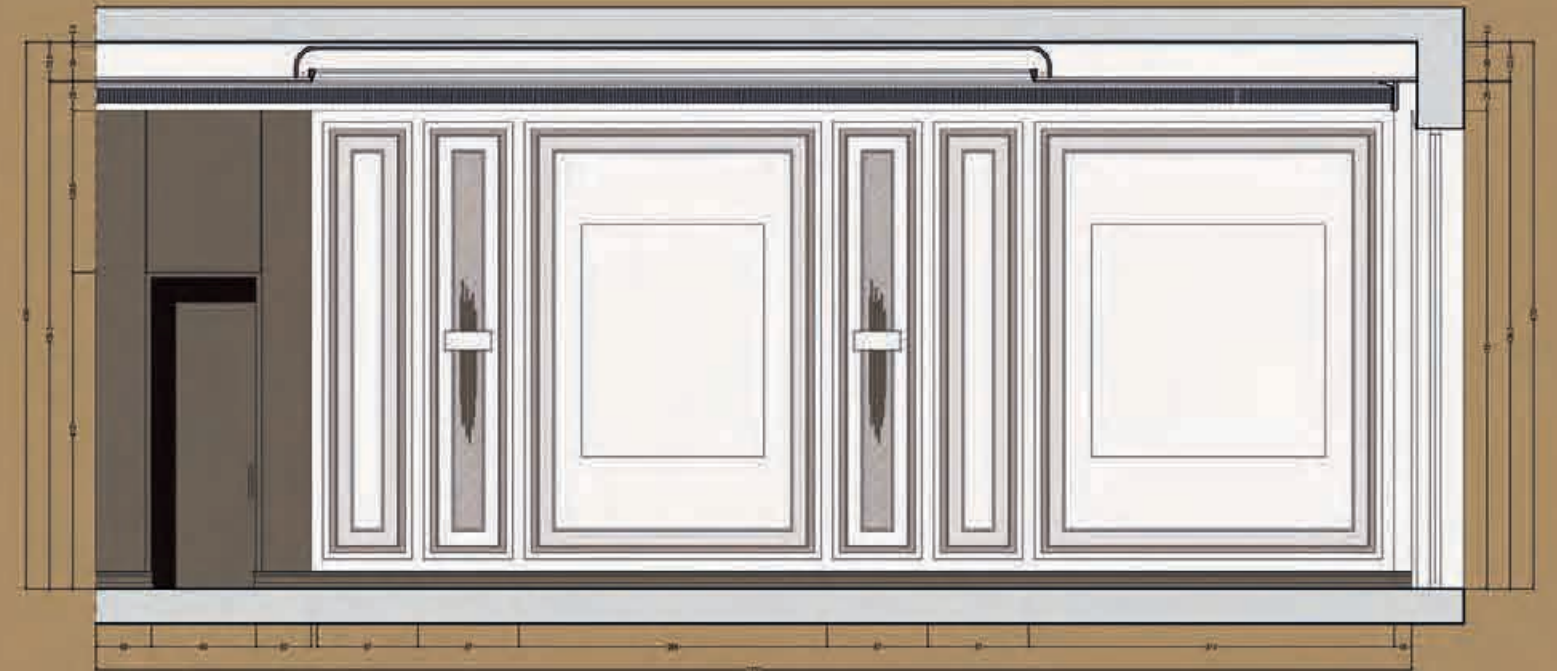

The spacious grand living room is enclosed in an elegant classical boiserie and is divided in two different areas by two full-size fluted marble columns, yet a modern twist can be perceived due to the choice of colour combination between classical ivory lacquering and more contemporary warm grey shades.

As to the choice of furniture, some rigorously classical elements are paired to contemporary shapes such as strict sofas, poufs or sets of small tables. The deep red colour gives this pompous and classical living room a fresh and provocative look. Several abstract paintings and sculptures are also part of the decoration project.

MOSCOW RESIDENCE

project: PRIVATE RESIDENCE IN MOSCOW | RUSSIA
area: 600mq

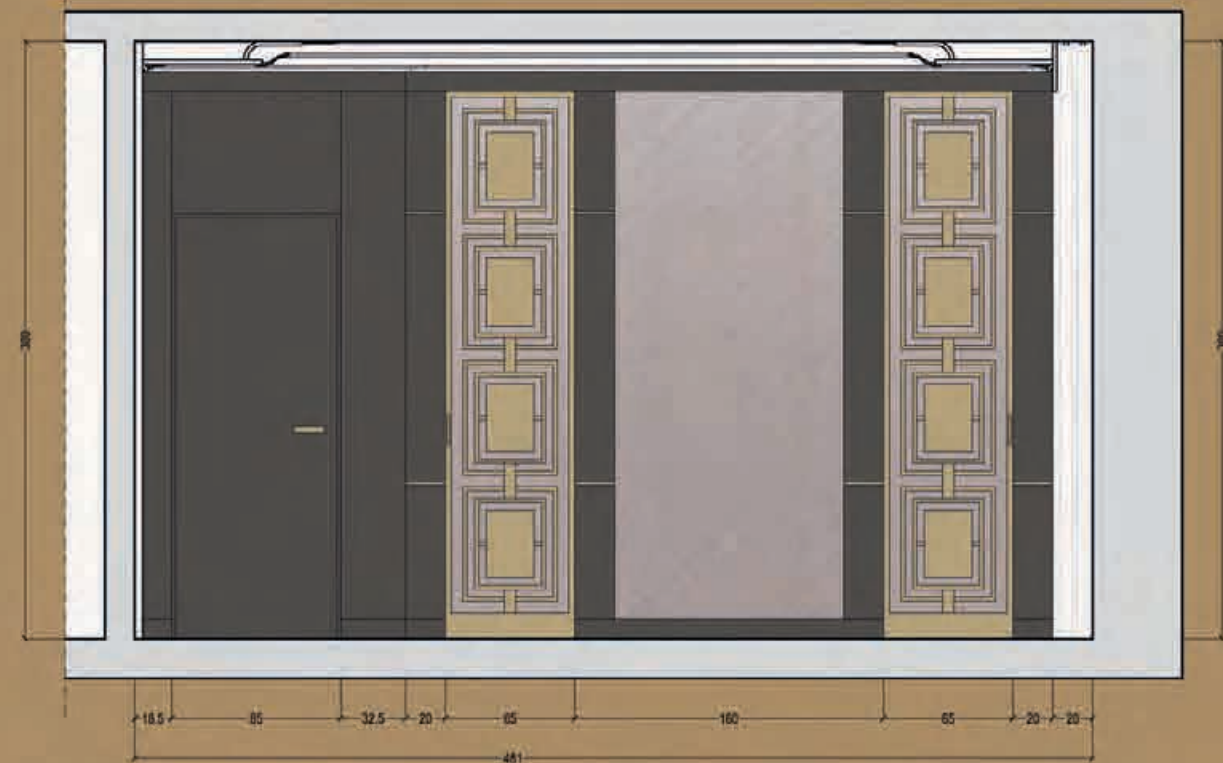

The key element to this sophisticated project is the combination between a very classical involucure and several quite contemporary elements such as geometrical bed headboard with bronze inserts and the curved lacquered furniture. The boiserie wall features some very precious materials such as glossy ebony wood veneer, nabuk leather and bronze inserts. The boiserie wall is also complete with a full-size bronzed mirror and two sliding doors leading to the walk-in closets. The marvelous sliding doors are realized in bronzed glass with decorative panels in bronze finishing. Particular attention is paid to the ceiling and lighting concept. The room is informally divided into two different areas with a small but precious chandelier crowning each of them. The chandeliers and the paired spotlights enlighten the room in different areas and create peculiar atmosphere during the day.

BAKU PENTHOUSE

project: PRIVATE PENTHOUSE IN BAKU | AZERBAIJAN
area: 450mq

The overall concept of this project is quite extravagant, however the choice of the precious materials and the refined shape of the bespoke furniture make it very elegant and sophisticated at the same time.

Decoration is the key word in this project and you can perceive it in the design of the furniture and decorative elements such as refined boiserie walls in ebony wood veneer, nabuk leather and bronzed mirrors or a dining table with a very particular alabaster top and several accessories such as door handles and knobs in natural horn.

The master bedroom concept is very delicate and poetic. The bed headboard features an exquisite silk panel with chinoiserie decoration that represents a blooming tree and conveys a sense of peace and meditation.

The design is accompanied by the choice of precious crystal chandeliers of different shapes.

PRAGUE VILLA

project: PRIVATE VILLA IN PRAGUE | CZECH REPUBLIC
area: 900mq

The general layout of this villa is a composition of volumes and shapes that intersect on different floor levels and create unusual interior spaces with different natural lighting in each room.

There is a marvelous skylight that crosses all of the three floors and creates a light prism in the heart of the villa. The boiserie wall behind it is made of a geometrical composition of marble slabs and bronze inserts and is accompanied by pendant lights in glass hung on different levels that emphasize the alternate composition.

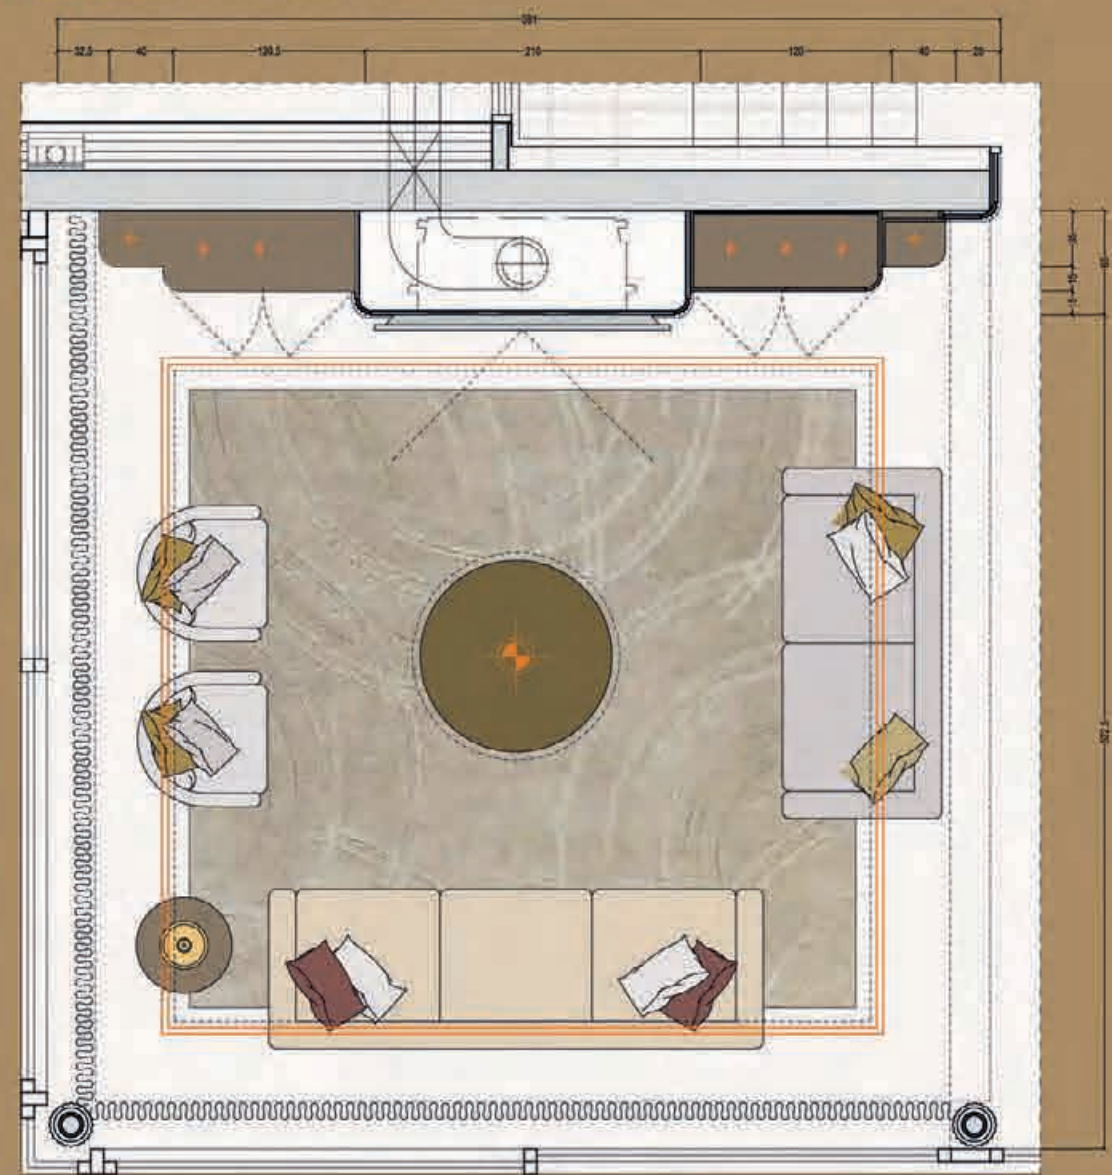

One of the leading characteristics of this project is the curved and enclosing shape of the furniture. The sinuous lines are perceived on the boiserie walls, fireplace, library, sofa composition and dining room furniture.

This characteristic is especially visible in the master bedroom where the impressive voluminous bed matches the curved shape of the furniture such as the sophisticated vanity table.

DUBAI MANSION

project: PRIVATE MANSION IN DUBAI | UAE
area: 2000mq

The spacious grand living room of this villa is enclosed in an elegant classical boiserie and is divided in three different areas by two full-size fluted marble columns emphasized by indirect lighting. This space has been conceived in a very rigorous and classical style, yet it does have several contemporary elements that distinguish a less formal area from the formal one. Each area of this space is also adorned by an exquisite crystal chandelier.

NEW YORK APARTMENT

project: PRIVATE APARTMENT IN NEW YORK | USA
area: 800mq

The vigorous and dynamic concept of this project is in line with the frenetic urban composition of the city's skyscrapers. The longitudinal shapes created by a contrast combination between light slabs of marble and dark ebony wood are emphasized by the use of the particular striped zebrino marble that accentuates the dynamicity of the interior space. This idea is at the core of the project and appears on the walls as boiserie panels and fireplace totem or as a dividing element between different spaces. The choice of furniture shape is very strict and contemporary and features the combination of neutral colours and precious but rigorous materials that converge to create an urban chic style. A particular accent is made on the lighting choice through the use of precious murano glass which enriches this rigorous space giving it an eclectic but very elegant twist.
